Deforestation

Globally, the main threat for forest- dependent communities is the accelerated process of deforestation. This process continues because the direct and underlying drivers are not adequately addressed.